

Be-Attitudes for Families

During the Christmas season the Church celebrates the Feast of the Holy Family. How is your family a "holy" family? These "be-attitudes" are ideals that families try to reach. On the line following each, write a way your family tries to live that ideal.

Happy is the family that talks and listens.

Happy is the family that gives love and support.

---

Happy is the family that teaches respect for others' individuality.

---

Happy is the family that has a sense of trust.

---

Happy is the family with a sense of fun and humor.

---

Happy is the family that shares responsibility.

---

Happy is the family that teaches right and wrong.

---

Happy is the family with faith and traditions.
